Charlotte Bunch, Founding Director and Senior Scholar at the Center for Women's Global Leadership, Rutgers University, has been an activist, writer and organizer in the feminist, LGBT, and human rights movements for over four decades. Bunch was previously a Fellow at the Institute for Policy Studies in DC and a founder of Washington DC Women's Liberation, The Furies and of Quest: A Feminist Quarterly. She has worked to bring women and issues of gender based violence and sexual rights onto national and international feminist and human rights agendas. She has written numerous influential essays, edited nine anthologies and authored Passionate Politics: Feminist Theory in Action and Demanding Accountability: The Global Campaign and Vienna Tribunal for Women's Human Rights.

Dr. Margo Okazawa-Rey currently is on the faculty of the School of Human and Organizational Development at the Fielding Graduate University in Santa Barbara, California, and Professor Emerita at San Francisco State University. Okazawa-Rey's primary areas of interest and research are gender, militarism, and feminist activist research. She is the author of numerous publications including, "Amerasian Children of GI Town: A Legacy of US Militarism in South Korea," in Asian Journal of Women Studies, and, with Gwyn Kirk, co-editor of Women's Lives: Multicultural Perspectives (6th ed., 2013). Dr. Okazawa-Rey also worked for three years as the Feminist Research Consultant at the Women's Centre for Legal Aid and Counseling in Ramallah, Palestine. She was a founding member of the Combahee River Collective, who articulated a theory of intersectionality in "A Black Feminist Statement" in the 1970s.
